Benefits of Telepractice

We provide Master's level services (including speech, language, counseling, OT, PT) to students and clients in under-served areas.

E-Therapy reduces traveling costs and lodging (environmentally friendly).

E-Therapy builds academic computer and internet based skills.

Students report that teletherapy is motivating.

Use of headphones decreases signal to noise ratio (especially beneficial for ADD/ADHD and Asperger's Syndrome).

Mission Statment

E-Therapy is committed to fostering and implementing outreach solutions through innovative technology allowing specialized therapists to treat the populations that are under-served throughout Arizona and beyond. Our highest priority is to fulfill and meet your needs.

Who We Are

E-Therapy is a private practice specializing in providing a broad spectrum of related services (speech/language therapy, counseling, OT, PT) using an electronic telecommunications delivery service model. Our services are provided from our computer to your computer. We are able to customize our services in order to make E-Therapy work for you.

What We Do

We provide high resolution, secure, real time video therapy sessions. E-Therapy implements a HIPAA compliant video conference network to bring our therapists to you.
